Theory Exploded.—That ill-luck does not always attend an event occurring on the 13th of the month and on Friday, is shown in the case of the four-masted schooner A. F. Coats, now loading lumber at the Clatsop mill in this city. The schooner was built by the Hoquiam Ship Building Company of Hoquiam, Wash., and the circumstances attending her launching were at the time looked upon in shipping circles as very ominous, and it was remarked that ill-luck would undoubtedly attend the ship's career. The Coats was launched on Friday on the 13th of September, 1901, and on the day McKinley died. After she slid down the ways into the river, the force of her slide carried her across the stream to the opposite bank, where she stuck in the mud until pulled off later. All these ill-omens combined, seemed to forecast a sure and swift doom for the vessel, but contrary to expectation and precedent, the schooner has outlived her nemesis, and is considered one of the safest and best vessels engaged in the coast-wise trade.

DECK AND DOCK NEWS

The steamer Sue H. Elmore left out yesterday morning for Tillamook City and bay points, with several passengers and plenty of freight.

The U. S. collier Saturn, loaded with fuel for the warships now at Portland, is due in this port this morning from San Francisco, and will go up the river without any delay.

The Harvest Queen arrived down yesterday morning about 4 o'clock with a big lot of people for the northern beaches, and they went to their destination with the Nacenta, which left here at 5 a. m. She left up for the metropolis with three vessels on her hawsers, the barkentine Mary Winkelman, the brigantine Geneva, and the schooner San Buenaventura. The first named for Rainier, the second for Portland and the last for Hoffman's Landing.

WHO OWNS THE LICENSE?

And How Can a Man Operate a Saloon Without One?

There is trouble over the Mint Saloon and the man who put up the money to establish that institution is getting his share of it. Jno. Wicklund, the ostensible proprietor, has disappeared but, before making his invisible exit, he sold the license, for which Alfred Hjort had put up the money, to Charlie Potts, who went before the city council last Monday night asking to utilize it for a saloon at the old Hoffman stand. He was represented there by Attorney Hewen and Hjort, who laid claim to the license through having paid for it, was represented by Attorney M. C. Welch. The council, in the absence of the city attorney, laid the matter over to be acted on at its next meeting. In the meantime there appears to be one saloon in town operating without a license.—Willapa Harbor Pilot.

IMPORTANT TRANSFER.

On Saturday afternoon last an important realty transfer was made, through the office of O. F. Morton, at 430 Commercial street, whereby A. G. Spexarth, of this city became the owner of the following property of the Baddollett Estate, to-wit: The south half of lots 5 and 6, in block 24; the south half of lot 1, and the west fourteen feet of the south half of lot 2 of block 26, all in McClure's Astoria. The figures governing the transaction were $10,053.58. Mr. Spexarth became the owner of the owner of the other half of the property some time ago.

YESTERDAY'S EXCURSION.

Astoria was down at the depot at the hour of high noon yesterday to witness the arrival of the big twelve-coach excursion on the "A. & C." from Portland. These crowds from the metropolis are the metropolis are the best dressed and best behaved, taken as a whole, that travels anywhere, and the excursions are patronized by some of the best people there. The Astorian can generally find a friend or two among the concourse and the scene at the depot is always a live one, during the hours of its stay here, and this city generally re-inforces the band out of her, for the popular sea resort.

A reward of $25 will be paid by Beaver Lodge No. 35, I. O. O. F., for the recovery of the body of the late H. F. Bruhn who was accidentally drowned in the Columbia River, near the Fort Stevens wharf on Tuesday, June 6.

How to Break Up a Cold.

It may be a surprise to many to learn that a severe cold can be completely broken up in one or two days' time. The first symptoms of a cold are a dry, loud cough, a profuse watery discharge from the nose, and a thing, white coating on the tongue. When Chamberlain's cough remedy is taken every hour on the first appearance of these symptoms, it counteracts the effect of the cold and restores the system to a healthy condition within a day or two. For sale by Frank Hart and leading druggists.

INGRATITUDE AND ROBBERY.

Dr. W. C. Logan Meets With Sundry Return For Kindness Bestowed.

About a week ago Dr. W. C. Logan, the well known dentist of this city in an effort to be helpful to a young man who claimed to be a dentist and out of work and resources generally, put him to work in his office at such work as was pressing, and the young fellow, whose name is Peterson, went about it as he knew how, until Friday last, when Dr. Broadwater who shares the office with Dr. Logan, returned from a visit abroad, when it was discovered that a number of fine instruments and a quantity of fine working-gold were missing from the office.

Dr. Logan was loth to believe, at first, that the man he had befriended had treated him so shamefully, but it was borne in upon him for the truth on Saturday morning when a friend reported to him that his protegee was doing some coarse dental work in certain private houses about the city and suggested that he look into the matter. The doctor did so, the chief of police aiding him in the review, and the room of the young man was first visited and duly examined, with the result that nearly all the tools and instruments and some of the costly metal were found and taken back to the place it came from through Peterson's agency. Peterson, when found, immediately admitted his guilt and was placed under arrest pending the filing of a formal complaint in the premises, which will probably transpire this morning.

MUST DIG UP LUM YOU.

The remains of Lum You, the Chinaman who was hung in the court room for murdering Oscar Bloom of Bay Centre, have got to be dug up. The execution, took place January 22, 1901, and the body being unclaimed by his countrymen, was buried in the woods between here and Raymond. The land on which the body was buried belongs to J. L. Sutton who was here for a couple of months recently. He has notified the county commissioners to remove the body as the land is coming into demand and he expects to cut it up into five or ten acre tracts for small farmers and he thinks that the presence of the Chinaman's bones might make possible buyers think of big tailed spooks and things like that and be frightened away.—South Bend Journal.

SUIT TO REMOVE TRAPS.

Gilnetters Sue to Remove D. R. Lynn's Traps.

The long-drawn out contest over the relative rights of gillnetters and trap fishermen in the Columbia river, which has hitherto been the cause of several gun plays between the contending forces, has at last reached the courts.

Frustrated by Sheriff McDonald in their lawless attempts to keep traps off their drifting grounds by force of arms the gillnetter's Union has engaged A. T. Miller of Vancouver to institute a suit and test their rights and the case was filed here Thursday. It is entitled Chris Alehorn vs. D. R. Lynn and the complaint recites that for many years Alehorn has been gillnetting in the Columbia from Point Ellis to Cliff Point on the north shore and this drifting ground has been kept clean for that purpose. D. R. Lynn has driven two traps on this ground and the court is asked to order him to remove them and to permanently enjoin him from driving traps there.—South Bend Journal.

"LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN."

A good many people who observed Mr. W. R. Hume sailing over the thoroughfares of Astoria in his big "chou chou" car yesterday, may have thought he was out for a pleasure spin. Such was not the case, however; he was on a deliberate and far-reaching search for his bull-pup, which had been lured from his happy home by some misguided son of humanity, and for the time being, no train, nor wagon left the city without the anxious scrutiny of Mr. Hume and the corps of ready-made detectives he had summoned to this assistance. At last accounts he had not found the treasured beast, but which will be found if he is still on the Pacific Slope.

A Word of Warning

Don't buy substitutes for MENNEN'S BORATED TALCUM POWDER. "Just as good" is only a deceit by which a dealer tries to make money out of the superiority and success of MENNEN'S POWDER. There's nothing just as good as MENNEN'S and users of substitutes and imitations risk skin, complexion and comfort in doing so.

As a protection to health use Mennen's Powder and only Mennen's. Have you tried MENNEN'S VIOLET BORATED TALCUM POWDER? Ladies partial to violet perfume will find Mennen's Violet Powder fragrant with the odor of fresh plucked Parma Violets.
